Teachers are knowledgeable and make learning interesting.

Staff skilfully question and guide pupils with SEND. This means that they can successfully access the same learning as their classmates.

Pupils have positive attitudes to learning and work hard in lessons. There is a calm and purposeful atmosphere in classrooms.

Pupils enjoy learning and are eager to tackle the challenges of the school's ambitious and interesting curriculum.

Any incidents of bullying or poor behaviour are dealt with quickly by adults.

Pupils are polite, friendly and welcoming.

Leaders ensure that pupils are taught how to keep themselves safe through the curriculum.

Learning to read is a priority from the moment children start school.

Pupils feel safe and they know that their well-being matters to staff.

Leaders have high expectations of all pupils.
