

Weekly Homework

Each week, I will be set a Maths and Literacy task in my white CGP books; this will be linked to my learning from that week. I will bring this home each Thursday and bring it back on Tuesdays for my teacher to look at.

I will read for 5 minutes every night. This could be from my three books that I will bring home from school each week or 5 minutes of a book, newspaper, comic book, recipe book or anything else I love to read at home! Please make a note of this in my Reading Record.

What else could I do at home that links to my amazing learning in school? Here are some optional ideas for us to try. My teacher said I can bring them in if I would like to so they can have a look but there is no expectation for this.

Places to Visit

We could visit a local woodland to have a look at the trees.

We could create our own treasure hunt to show our knowledge of trees and plants. We could search for things like:

- The oldest/youngest tree
- The tree with the most/least branches/leaves
- The most colourful tree
- The tree that looks most like a person

We could collect conkers, acorns, sticks and leaves and think about different ways we could describe them. Are they spikey, smooth, sharp, bendy, bright...?

Could we group the things we have collected in different ways? We could group them by colour, shape, size, texture or any other categories you can think of.

Crafts

We could create our own woodland mobile from things we can find in nature.

We could make woodland creatures out of natural materials.

We could use clay or play dough to create hedgehogs with spikey backs!

Oracy Ideas

In school, I have been working hard to improve my Oracy skills. We have been learning how to instigate conversations by saying things like 'I would like to start by saying...' or 'I think...' and then giving a reason for our answers by adding 'because'.

Here are some ideas of discussions we could have at home to practise these skills:

Would you rather live in a gingerbread house or a treehouse, high up in the forest?

Would you rather help Little Red Riding Hood deliver her basket or help the Three Little Pigs build their houses in the woods?

Would you rather be as small as a mouse so you can hide in the forest, or as tall as a castle so you can see over the trees?
